Cloud Migration Provides the Spark for Institutional Transformation in Higher Education

Migrating to the cloud is an opportunity for an institution to transform its operations and use technology in new, innovative ways. The right implementation partner can help an institution take the spark thrown off by cloud migration to fuel the fire of true institutional transformation. Higher Ed is facing many challenges:

Increasing operational costs

Decreasing

enrollment

expectations

Declining

Ovum foresees that much of this investment will go to cloud-based applications and solutions. The cloud offers tremendous opportunities for institutional growth and transformation:

Reduces total operational costs over time

Offers enhanced security for institutional innovation, rather than maintenance

Percentage of US institutions currently on the cloud for:

ERP HR: ERP Financials: 12% CRM. 22% 19% SIS: Analytics: (from Ovum's ICT Enterprise Insights 2017/18 - Global: Education)

Overall, US higher education expenditures on cloud-based from $309m in 2015 to $1.03b by 2021 for a total CAGR of 22.1%

Institutions can maximize the value of their cloud investments by working with an implementation partner.

The right partner balances horizontal and higher education-specific capabilities

An implementation partner must:

Understand institutional goals

Recommend plans that support research activities & core business functions

Manage technical and change management aspects of cloud migration

Recognize migration pain points and offer solutions

To learn how Huron can help institutions capture the full value of their technology solutions and achieve business transformation, click here